

Ingo Maurer

One From The Heart Spare - Transformer with Touch Tronic (until 2021)

Technical details

|                        |                                                                                             |
|------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Country of Manufacture |  Germany |
| Manufacturer           | Ingo Maurer                                                                                 |
| Designer               | Ingo Maurer                                                                                 |
| voltage suitability    | 230 - 240 Volt                                                                              |

Description

The offered replacement 12 Volt transformer is suitable for the Ingo Maurer lamp One From The Heart (model until 2021).

The replacement transformer with TouchTronic is not an original transformer from Ingo Maurer. It serves, just like the original, to regulate light and electricity. The transformer converts the current intensity and the TouchTronic switches and dims the light. (Including original plug)