Descripción

The Keilbach fireplace Fluxus can stand like an art object the whole year in the garden. The 3 mm thick sheet steel is dark and bright in its original condition. This corrodes in the course of time and the fireplace gets its individual rust-coloured patina. In addition, the soot leaves interesting contrasts on the corroding material. Fluxus can easily be left outdoors all year round. However, the oxidized material can leave traces on the surface.

The fireplace has an edge length of 80 x 80 cm, a height of 20 cm and a weight of 26 kg. It forms an aesthetic square.

The optionally available stainless steel barbecue rust (42 x 40 cm) turns the Fluxus fireplace into a fully-fledged barbecue.
